Pitlai Club V6.A dozen new Democrats have signed on to a national group's resolution calling for a probe of President Trump's tax returns in an attempt to get past Trump's stonewalling. Rep. John Lewis (D-Ga.), a leader of the civil rights movement, and Rep. Mark Pocan (D-Wis.) introduced the measure Tuesday at the National Press Club. No Republicans are on record supporting the measure. House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi (D-Calif.) and Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer (D-N.Y.) have said they have no plans to pursue it, and Trump has said Democrats will be satisfied if they get a routine look at his returns. But the effort to force Trump to turn over his tax returns will keep political momentum alive among Democrats and could influence the party's presidential candidates ahead of 2020, said Democratic strategist Hank Sheinkopf. The Democratic National Committee passed a resolution a few months ago asking Trump to release his tax returns, but Democrats haven't been successful in getting the measure adopted by either of the two chambers. "They have to keep the issue alive and move it from being a Democratic idea to a progressive idea and then build it," Sheinkopf said. The new group of Democrats include Reps. Kurt Schrader (D-Ore.), Ayanna Pressley (D-Mass.), Bobby Rush (D-Ill.), Veronica Escobar (D-Texas), Al Green (D-Texas), Maxine Waters (D-Calif.), Katie Hill (D-Calif.), Ro Khanna (D-Calif.), Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez (D-N.Y.), Ilhan Omar (D-Minn.) and Deb Haaland (D-N.M.). The group's resolution cites a long history of presidents, including Gerald Ford, who released his tax returns at the direction of Congress. "In the modern era of President Trump's ongoing attempts to undermine and conceal information from the American people, the House of Representatives urges the House Committee on Ways and Means to immediately launch an investigation to determine whether the IRS has properly enforced the tax laws against Donald J
